ROPEERS AND SHOOTERS ARRIVED

Kappelmeister Berger was on hand with the band. When the cowboys and the marksmen this morning hit the land; And the steamship Alameda dumped her most distinguished freight. As a swarm of lels and ladies decked the wharf—Oh, it was great!

There was Kiddo Denham standing on the landing with a pad. Writing poetry of welcome for each brave Hawaiian lad; While the music of Herr Berger formed a merger with the roar Of enthusiastic people greeting all the boys ashore.

All ye shooters sharp and ropers, all ye gallants of Hawaii, Ye have roped and shot superbly, ye have caught the nation's eye; And we welcome you right gladly and propose a big luau, Just to celebrate your triumphs in a manner wela-ka-nao!

SAY HAWAII IS BASEBALL MAD

SAN FRANCISCO, September 3.—The speedy little Santa Clara college baseball team arrived from Honolulu yesterday on the Alameda after a victorious campaign in the Hawaiian Islands. The boys all had a great trip and made an enviable reputation for themselves. They met every big nine in the islands and emerged victorious in most of their games. Their fast work met with the approval of the native and American fans and they were invited to return next year, when another schedule of games will be arranged in their honor.

Hawaiian Islanders are baseball mad. When Mike Fisher and his stars invaded the land of the hula last winter they sowed the seed and it seems to have taken root to the extent that everybody is for baseball first, last and all the time.

The Santa Clara boys not only met the teams of natives and Americans on the islands, but they went against the Japanese nine that came all the way from Tokyo for experience. These Japanese played a snappy game.

The Santa Clara team is made up as follows: R. P. Broderick, C. W. Byrnes, C. M. Freine, J. K. Jarratt, G. J. Kennedy, C. P. Kilburn, J. L. Laffin, H. A. McKenzie, D. J. Peters, V. G. Salberg, A. J. Shafer, H. M. Shafer.

READY FOR CONVERSION.

The demand that the sultan of Turkey dispense with his harem recalls the story of the cannibal chief who became converted and asked the missionary to admit him to the church. "But you have more than one wife," objected the missionary. "My church does not allow that."

The chief departed in dejection, but returned again in a few days and announced, with evident satisfaction, that he now had only one wife and was ready for baptism.

"But," objected the clergyman doubtfully, "where are your other wives?" "Oh," replied the convert, "I have eaten them."—New York Tribune.

Big League baseball, at a meeting held yesterday, was called off, but the Mooheau team from Hilo will be here to play a game on Sunday, September 20, and possibly a game on the Sunday following. No arrangements have been made as to who will go up against the Hilo men, but there will be a good team to meet them.

"THREE WEEKS" IS TOO TORRID

ACTOR HACKETT ABANDONS THE PRODUCTION OF THE PLAY AT ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, August 21.—James K. Hackett, the matinee idol, will not play "Three Weeks" at the Suburban Garden Theater here, as he announced. The piece as it stands, Hackett declared two weeks ago, was a little too torrid in sports for even a summer garden audience to stand. He insisted on the second and third acts being revised.

Mrs. Elinor Glyn, the manufacturer of that literary and ramatic tabasco, has decided that it takes more than twenty-one days to make "Three Weeks" as she thinks it should be made, a first-class article to tickle the palate of the public, and comes right back at "Jeems" by saying the piece is too classy for a summer garden audience—so there.

M'CANDLESS NOMINATED

CLOSING SESSIONS OF DEMOCRATIC TERRITORIAL CONVENTION—CENTRAL COMMITTEE ELECTED.

Following what was reported in yesterday's issue the roll was called in the Democratic Territorial Convention at the afternoon session.

Frank Harvey was called on by Chairman Trent to tell how he was treated at the Democratic National Convention. He spoke at considerable length in Hawaiian and the name of the "Peerless One" was often on his tongue. From the frequent applause and laughter it was evident that he made a good speech.

THE PLATFORM.

Chairman Charles L. Rhodes of the committee on platform and resolutions presented its report. Before he read it he stated that it contained a good many planks, contributed by persons inside and outside of the party.

The platform was printed in the second edition of yesterday's Star. After its reading in Hawaiian by the interpreter, Mr. Ingham moved and Mr. Lucas second a motion to adopt the report.

Mr. Emmeluth suggested that any member having amendments to suggest send them up to the desk before discussing them.

"By what authority?" Mr. Ashford inquired.

"By the rules of the party," Mr. Emmeluth replied.

"This is a convention that makes its own rules," exclaimed Mr. Ashford, "and I object to having Mr. Emmeluth run things any way he pleases."

Chairman Trent stated the motion and asked if the convention was ready for the question.

An eruption of words in the native vernacular arose here and there, one man standing up near the door, apparently not a delegate, mingling profanity with his remarks. There were cries of "Put him out" and Sergeant-at-Arms Kalawala squeaked the disturbance.

Thos. R. Lucas objected to considering the platform section by section, after its construction has taken weeks of labor. He did not want to be kept there for weeks or even until midnight. The best way to go was the easiest. He saw no use in picking the platform to pieces.

Lapana Keawepoole moved to insert in the platform the following:

"We instruct our Delegate to Congress to secure the repeal of the measure introduced by Delegate Kalaniana'ole limiting the time in which the Hawaiian language shall be permitted in the various departments of our government."

Mr. Ashford was not aware of any such legislation. The Hawaiian language would be spoken in government affairs here as long as there were voters here using their mother tongue.

Mr. Chandler spoke in favor of the motion and Mr. Ashford replied in the same terms as at first.

Mr. Harvey thought there was a misapprehension. There was a proposal to limit the use of Hawaiian to ten years and the Delegate introduced an amendment to extend the time to fifteen years.

The motion carried by an overwhelming volume of ayes.

Mr. Lowe moved to insert a declaration in favor of having a medical inspector of schools.

There was opposition and the motion died for want of a second.

Mr. Hanapi moved to insert a plank to make that county laborers be paid for holidays the same as Territorial employees.

Mr. Kahanamoku moved that the plank be rejected. There was a difference between day laborers and employees receiving monthly salaries.

The amendment was voted down by a large majority.

Mr. Palau moved to strike out the Asiatic plank.

Mr. Harvey opposed the motion and was followed by a babel of desultory but simultaneous debate. Mr. Palau withdrew the amendment.

Mr. Keawehaku moved to ra plank to make liquor licenses issuable to voters only.

Mr. Ashford said the amendment would be worthless. The Supreme Court would wipe out any law to the effect proposed like a chalk mark.

The convention here lost patience and a motion to adopt the platform as a whole carried with a roar as of many waters.

NOMINATION OF DELEGATE.

Nomination of a candidate for Delegate to Congress was hardly announced as the next order of business when a score of delegates were on their feet shouting "McCandless." The uproar was succeeded by a speech from a native delegate and then a motion to close the nomination carried with loud acclamation. Then there were more speeches in the liquid notes and the musical cadence of the ancient tongue without interpretation.

Mr. Juen moved that the nomination be made by acclamation, and the motion being put the convention rose to its feet and cheered three times two and a half.

Mr. Harvey wanted to ring in a cir-

PROMOTION WORK

Lieut. Constain, flag secretary of the Pacific fleet, by letter acknowledged receipt of 25 copies of the "Crossroads of the Pacific" chart for distribution among the cruisers and torpedo destroyers.

A letter was read from the Official Tourist Office of Batavia, proposing reciprocity in the handling of tourist literature.

A committee of ladies asked for the influence of the Committee to procure the use of Bishop Park for a fair in aid of scholarships for Hawaiian boys at Aliiolani College.

Chairman A. Lewis Jr. of the Advisory Land Law Commission wrote soliciting any suggestions the Committee might have to make on the subject of the land laws.

A poster design for next floral parade was submitted.

Chairman W. E. Brown stated that Prof. Williams of Yale, on visiting Honolulu, expressed the opinion that the promotion literature was not sufficiently extensive.

cus a la Denver and suggested a cheering spasm of half an hour. But the convention was not acquiescent, so a speech was called for from the nominee.

Lincoln L. McCandless on coming to the front spoke of the labors expended on the platform for the past several weeks. There was nothing more serious than the responsibility of a man who pledged himself to carry out a carefully prepared platform full of promises. In 1899 the proposal was to restrict the franchise to citizens having $1000 of property. When Robert Wilcox went to Congress he had that changed so that every Hawaiian had a vote. The speaker gave Wilcox $400 and asked him to see that nothing but an educational qualification was placed on the Hawaiian suffrage.

In 1904 and 1906 the Republican party pledged itself to preserve the public lands for the people. Yet that party had done nothing. It was because the Government gave one man nearly 48,000 acres of land in an exchange that he left the Republican party. Another pledge of the Republican party which had been violated was to secure an amendment of Section 73 of the Organic Act so as to give our Legislature the right to amend the land laws.

Mr. McCandless went into details of the Government's dealing with home-stands on the island of Maui, to show that the corporations were favored at the expense of the settler. He was loudly applauded at many points of his speech.

At ten minutes to 5 o'clock the convention adjourned until 7:30.

EVENING SESSION.

Chairman Trent stated that the Territorial Central Committee consisted of thirty members, corresponding in number to the membership of the House of Representatives. He stated the appointment by districts. Would they proceed to elect them or take a recess to allow each district to hold a caucus?

Mr. Emmeluth gave a further explanation of the rule.

Mr. Moore moved for a recess of ten minutes to enable the Fourth District to caucus. Carried.

Chairman Trent on calling the convention to order appointed Master Frank Burnette as page. (Applause.) Districts reported nominations for the Territorial Central Committee as follows:

First District—Puna, T. J. Ryan; South Hilo, Charles Maguire; North Hilo, E. K. Simmons; Hamakua, T. N. Nalelehu.

Second District—F. Kauwe, S. P. Woods, D. K. Keanini, J. H. K. Keawehaku, P. Apiki.

Third District—Wailuku, T. B. Lyons, Robt. J. K. Nawahine; Makawao, J. Burns; Hana, B. A. Kemoki; Molokai, Pala Naki.

Fourth District—1st and 2nd precincts Ed. Ingham; 3rd and 4th, A. V. Peters; 5th and 6th, Keawehaku; 7th, John Emmeluth; 8th and 9th, W. H. McClellan; 10th and 11th, Moses Palau.

Fifth District—1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, Apa Kehau; 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th, Th. R. Gilliland; 9th and 10th, Jos. J. Fern; 11th and 12th, Lapana Keawepoole; 13th and 14th, D. P. Keawehaku; 15th, Eddie Like.

Sixth District—C. W. Hudson, W. B. Maumu, D. L. Kalawala, Solomon Kealoha.

Chairman Trent announced the end of regular business and called for field reports by districts. One delegate after another, beginning with the First District, then gave accounts of the party outlook in his locality.

FLEET COUPONS.

Anyway, we are one day nearer the "return ball," today. It is a fleeting show; but, a mighty and a good one.

FATHER VALENTIN COUPON.

A CHRISTIAN COUPON.

Do you preach, my dear friend, unselfishness and brotherly love, neighborly kindness, etc. We shall all look to see, that you practice a few of these divine attributes.

MILK COUPON.

We have spoken from time to time of the great vigilance that should be warred, steadily and unceasing, with regard to the milk of the city's use.

And it maybe, that the poor kows are not always at fault but, the containers!

We all know, that in the home even, how careful one must be, to look after any utensil, in which milk is kept; how carefully to a nicety, it must be scalded out and most thoroughly dried—even sun-dried. A few days since in looking at the lovely children of one family, the mother replied to our questioning, that she used only the best condensed milk. When we fed them on cow's milk, however careful we might be in our selection, the children were continually ailing; and, finally, one of our best doctors told her, "better to let it alone entirely and make the feed of condensed milk." Since that time, said she, I have no trouble. The baby of ten months is a very fine child and the mother said it was fed entirely on condensed milk.

Personally, as we cannot own a cow, we too prefer the same.

FROM MEXICO.

The following paragraph was clipped from the "El Sol," a newspaper at Hermosillo, Mexico, it being a part of a letter to the publisher from a friend: "On my last trip to my properties on the frontier, my best fell with me to the ground, wounding me badly, but by a chance provision I had brought in my valise a flask of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using it I was able to continue my journey the following day as if nothing had happened. I never tire of praising this popular liniment of recommending it." For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., Agents for Hawaii.
